

Anthony Tormey, the founder and Chief Training Officer with Leader Development Institute, has forged an illustrious career spanning 2 decades of dedicated military service, laying the foundation for his remarkable professional journey. For another 20 years Anthony has specialized in leading a cadre of trainers and delivering top-notch professional development to corporate teams and employees, Anthony brings a wealth of experience and expertise to the table.

With a background in global military missions, ranging from small team tactics to large-scale joint military operations, Anthony's twenty-year role as a Pararescueman and Air Battle Manger equipped him with an impressive array of skills. His expertise in rock climbing, scuba diving, free-fall parachuting, long-term survival, emergency medicine, and airspace management showcases planning, adaptability, precision, and strategic thinking. Leveraging his military experience, he excels in leadership and team collaboration, ensuring effective project management and achievement of mission objectives. Honed in diverse, high-pressure situations, Anthony's quick thinking and adaptability prove invaluable for corporate problem-solving and navigating the evolving business landscape.

Certified as a Master Quality Instructor and licensed to facilitate the Seven Habits of Highly Effective People, Anthony has mastered the arts of effective leadership, personal development, and organizational strategic planning during his military tenure and parlayed it into a speaking and training career.

Transitioning into Education, Training, and Development, Anthony's journey began as an adult leader for the Boy Scouts of America and continued throughout his military career. His early experiences in fostering leadership in young men, junior officers and Airmen set the stage for his future roles. Successfully balancing operational responsibilities with mentorship, Anthony prepared others to step into leadership roles throughout his military career.

Beyond his military accolades, Anthony's commitment to excellence extends into the realm of motivation and influence. A seasoned speaker, he conducts seminars and delivers inspirational speeches nationally and internationally on Leadership, Management, Strategic Thinking, Principles of Success, Project Management, Experiential Team-building, and Effective Communication.

But Anthony is more than just a trainer—he is a motivator and an influencer. His dynamic approach to training, education, and inspiration is palpable in every setting, whether it's a challenge course, a stage, or a boardroom. Anthony's purpose is crystal clear—to train, educate, and inspire his audience. Through real-world experiences, role plays, and experiential learning, he aims to ignite understanding and internalization, serving as the catalyst for organizations on their journey towards improvement and growth.
