

ETHICS IN THE WORKPLACE

Employees are often grappling with the questions “is this ethical, is that ethical, is this an unethical business practice”? LDI has developed a one-day workshop that provides a foundation for answering those questions.

Making a business ethics decision not only impacts us as individuals, those decisions also have an impact on the teams and the organization. Right or wrong has become somewhat indiscernible – this session will increase your ethical awareness and provide a structure for gauging your moral compass.

During the session participants will explore issues of ethics in their day-to-day life, especially the challenges encountered in the workplace. We will look at personal integrity and character and their relationship to business and professional ethics; the practical implications of ethical decisions; and conflicts that arise between personal interest and moral imperatives.

WHAT YOU WILL COVER

- ★ Understand what 'business ethics' is and why it matters
- ★ Learn the role organizational core values in the workplace
- ★ Learn how to make ethical decisions
- ★ Understand the obstacles to making ethical decisions
- ★ Understand your business & social responsibilities
- ★ Be able to identify unethical behaviors
- ★ Understand ethics (doing the right thing)
- ★ Understand the six pillars of character
- ★ Understand the five principles of ethical power

HOW YOU WILL BENEFIT

- ★ Employees understand the importance of not engaging in distasteful speech or practices.
- ★ Collectively, employees strive to maintain a pleasant and friendly environment that customers and other employees can enjoy.
- ★ When you and all of your workers set high expectations for personal responsibility, procrastination decreases and productivity increases.
- ★ Employee morale rises in an atmosphere that promotes good behavior and honest interactions.
- ★ Workers feel more valued and, in turn, value the work they are doing.
- ★ Expect your workplace to be livelier and more work to get done when employees are trained in ethics.
- ★ they will strive to maintain a pleasant and friendly environment that customers and other employees can enjoy.
