2019 SUCCESS SERIES SEMINARS™ CATALOG

Fellow Professional,

Welcome to Leader Development Institute's Success Series Seminar catalog.

At Leader Development Institute (LDi™) we firmly believe in the need for quality, effective course development and training for both the private and public sector. LDi is dedicated to developing the leaders of tomorrow - at home, at work, across the nation and around the world. Our goal is to identify the client's requirements and exceed them with the commitment - if we don't meet your needs, we don't deserve your business.

Each LDi trainer is well experienced not only in facilitating seminars but employing those concepts as well. LDi trainers are chosen for their knowledge of subject matter, business experience, training and communication skills and above all their passion for what they do.

LDi clearly understands in today's environment, the importance for both government agencies and corporations to be competitive and self-sustaining. You deserve the best and latest in information and teaching techniques to ensure you walk away from each workshop, seminar or training session a better person and employee. Our goal is to provide you with a curriculum that will train as well as educate, recognizing that to educate is to increase one's intellectual awareness of a subject, whereas to train, is to make someone proficient at the execution of a given task. LDi creates opportunities for the participant to practice and experience the desired learning skills so as to have an improved awareness AND increased proficiency.

We apply proven adult learning principles of curriculum and training development to include a focus on "real world" problems; emphasis on how the learning can be applied; relate the learning to the participant's goals; and, allow for debate and the challenge of ideas. Recognizing adults are multi-sensory learners - visual, aural and kinesthetic - LDi incorporates each of the three types of learning into the curriculum to ensure the greatest opportunity for all participants to learn in the mode they are most comfortable with.

LDi's vision and long-term goals are three-fold. First is our commitment to meeting the immediate and long-term training objectives of our corporate and government clients through consulting and quality off-the-shelf and customized training programs. Second is to position ourselves as a national and international training company offering high impact seminars to the public throughout North America and its major markets. Third is for LDi to be the contractor of choice for government and corporate outsourcing of entire training departments or programs and other areas needing full time management and leadership.

We look forward to a long-term relationship with you. Feel free to contact me any time.
My email is tormeya@LDIworld.com

Advanced Supervision and Leadership Skills

These Success Series Seminars are designed with seasoned leaders and supervisors in mind. The sessions will provide tips, tools and training that can be used starting on day one.

Building the Extraordinary Leadership Team

How would you like to make dramatic progress towards becoming a more cohesive, high-performing Leadership Team? No matter where your organization is in the stages of team development, this dynamic two-day event is designed to bring your team to extraordinary levels. If you aspire to work together more effectively, consider the following:

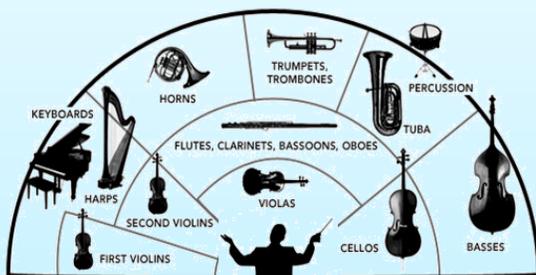

- What could get accomplished if you were all willing and able to engage in constructive and passionate debate as a means to greater understanding of differing viewpoints?
- Are assumptions about the intentions of others interfering with clear and meaningful communication, especially controversial topics that are critical to team success?
- What if decisions could be made more easily and there was follow up to actions, without the issues resurfacing again and again?
- What would maximizing communication do for work effectiveness and your bottom line?

Responsibility of Leadership in a Diverse Organization

Pair with:

Building the Extraordinary Leadership Team

Leaders, who understand the composition of their workforce, should start strategizing options for the workforce. Flex time, child care, telework, etc. How to recruit and retain the brightest employees who will make the greatest contributions to the organization. Supervisors should consider research that indicates how a broad cultural make-up of an organization can have an impact on overall mission success. Tools such as organizational climate assessments and surveys, with consistent and regular employee reviews can provide leaders great insight into the diverse ambitions and preferences of their workforce.

Leaders can promote respect for the wise sages of the workforce possessing a wealth of knowledge, as well as millennial and Gen-X employees, who bring new insights, current trends and pop culture, to the table. Employees with different backgrounds come to the table with different experiences. Different perspectives.

Breakthroughs in Neuroscience Techniques for the Seasoned Leader

This Leader Development Institute Success Series Seminar is specifically geared toward seasoned managers and supervisors.

An extremely unique and powerful one-day program where individuals learn the latest in neuroscience breakthroughs, developing advanced leadership skills and taking them to a higher level.

During this event the participant will discover four levels of leadership as they correlate to brain physiology and learn how to lead and operate from the most advanced part of the brain.

In this workshop, participants will learn how both positive and negative aspects of their teams and projects may be tied back to their own projections, affinities, and subconscious thoughts and behaviors. Participants will explore how to uncover their own hidden potential and remove barriers that otherwise prevent them from leading from their full potential.

Thriving in the “C” Suite Executive Core Competencies

Where along the corporate ladder do you start to exchange some of your technical competencies for the often more complicated leadership competencies? Are you a change leader or simply waiting to see what happens? Do you bring vision and strategic thinking to the table? Or do you simply wait to be told what needs to be done? Today’s executives are no longer looked at simply for their “job” skills.

In this Success Series Seminar, the focus is to bring you to a higher level of thinking and leading, it is a mind-shift from what you’ve always done...to what you must do to stay in the game. How to rapidly adapt to changing conditions, new information, or unexpected obstacles. You will be able to develop new insights into situations and encourage new ideas and innovations all while managing your daily activities and navigating the operation of your organization to ensure it is accomplishing the mission.

Effective Meeting & Facilitation Skills

Keeping Meetings on Time & on Target

Effective facilitators and leaders know how to bring out the best in individual and team performance. Effective facilitators take charge of work sessions and lead groups toward successfully completing their work objectives. They act as a catalyst, coach, coordinator, referee and more.

In this workshop, participants learn to plan work sessions, create agendas, manage difficult sessions, encourage, 'out of the box', thinking to generate new ideas, reduce frustration, and produce results. Your meeting success will be determined by your facilitation skills.

Designed for all levels of leadership, from the newest supervisor to the senior members of your leadership team, these Success Series Seminars provide the training that will add to mission accomplishment.

Lead First – Manage Second

Your career success depends on LEADERSHIP, not management trends. Look, leading employees can be difficult, but trying managing people is like trying to herd cats. Each one has their own agenda. Each one thinks they know best. Trying to get everyone on the same page, working in the same direction 100% of the time has proven impossible for many. But not for LDi seminar participants. In fact, when we ask successful leaders how is it they are successful, they inevitably respond with, “Lead first and manage second”.

During this one-day event your trainer will address the five principles of extraordinary leadership, how to delegate and empower more effectively, share the ONE word you need to hold employees accountable, and so much more.

Lead First tears down the management myth and rebuilds your most valuable human resource into a dynamic proactive leader.

Building a High-Performance Work-Team

Team building is an essential skill that is required in today's workforce to achieve optimal outcomes. Good teamwork is often a result of hardworking leaders striving to maximize the potential of all of their employees. Workplace challenges such as change, and conflict can really test the strength of the team. Leaders who fail to recognize these signs run the risk of disharmony and not meeting productivity. This one-day seminar will help professionals learn how to make decisions, solve problems and settle conflict.

Attendees will learn how to combat common stumbling blocks such as difficult team behaviors, what to do when conflict is imminent and how to help employees cope with change.

Workplace Motivation is for all front-line and mid-level leaders as it will help you by emphasizing the importance of getting to know your team members better and creating a more positive work environment. Doing these things will result in increased motivation and productivity (wow), thus saving you time dealing with poor performance and negative attitudes (pow). Leading a team will become more fun and fulfilling as a result of attending this one-day seminar!

SUPERVISION AND LEADERSHIP SKILLS

The Hard Skills of Leadership

One of the greatest benefits of an LDi leadership course is the time we spend on understanding theories and how to apply them.

The Hard Skills of Leadership focuses exclusively on skills that will improve the manager's workday and the effectiveness of the team they supervise, with skills they can implement the next day after class.

No matter where a task comes from, managers will understand how to track it and accomplish it; no matter how much email arrives in their box, students will know what to do with it. Students will learn the basic tools to manage their teams and forums they can implement to drive real-time coordination and communication among team members without resorting to email or hours of meetings. No more meeting to prepare for meetings!

Practical and Painless Performance Reviews

Performance management is one of the most time-consuming and dreaded tasks of a supervisor. While it's easy to deliver good news about employee performance, it can be challenging and uncomfortable to deliver messages about poor performance. In this workshop, learn how to master the art of delivering performance reviews by avoiding common errors and following best practices.

Typically seen as an administrative task accomplished once a year, successful supervisors make it part of a process that is done intermittently to prevent a large arduous task.

In this highly engaging workshop, participants will have the opportunity to practice delivering and implementing what they've learned so that when they leave the classroom, they will have both the cognitive knowledge and the experiential, hands-on practice of the skills to apply immediately back in the workplace.

Team Building Skills

A cohesive team is the key to any successful company or organization. With these Success Series Seminars, your team will learn what it takes to overcome the obstacles that can prevent that cohesion.

Mindshift: Embracing Diversity

Mindshift's focus is on organizational behavior, recognizing cultural and individual values, unique qualities, talents and similarities. This seminar is about changing the way we look and think about diversity, moving away from typical legal policies and regulations or, "business case", and instead discussing how differences can work to enhance the organizations values, vision, and mission effectiveness. The overarching goal is, "Integrate diversity into our culture so that it is not a program, but conducted as a way of life." The practices of successful diversity "programs" are interwoven in an organization's culture. The distinction being that diversity is a value, not a program.

Diversity provides an opportunity to acknowledge a highly competent workforce with interdisciplinary and cross-cultural perspectives consistent with the organization's core values.

Partnering for Success is designed to promote and develop a wide range of critical team-building principles necessary for success.

Team Building to Overcome Burnout in a Do-More-With-Less-Environment

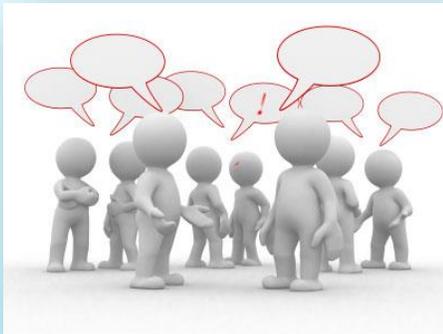

Employees are under more stress than ever before. With organizations making rapid and significant changes, downsizing, and requesting employees to do more work in less time, stress is at an all-time high. With everyone under more stress, burn out and higher levels of tension among staff are common place.

In this workshop, you will focus on reducing stress and burnout by improving relationships with your co-workers and working as a team. Through interactive discussions and hands-on exercises, you will explore personality style differences, generational differences, and how individual conflict styles affect the way you communicate with others.

Participants attending this session will examine and analyze their approach and effectiveness in these interactions. This workshop offers theory and practice, combined with knowledge, that generates an enhanced skill set when interacting one-on-one or in groups. This course will change the way you see yourself through increased self-awareness, shifts in the way you think about your interaction versus others, and move from being reactive to proactive.

You will leave this workshop profoundly changed!

Communication

Effective communication only takes place when a message is received in the way in which the sender meant for it to be understood. Every person in your organization must be able to do this effectively. Learn how with these Success Series Seminars.

Communicate with Confidence and Clarity

Offering Multiple Options for Training

You've proven your competence and your value. So why aren't you getting your point across? Look around you. The true leaders in your organization are the people who share a particular skill: the ability to communicate effectively. Regardless of upbringing, education, and talent. Extraordinary leaders share the same quality: superior communication skills. Through observation, trial and error, or schooling from mentors, extraordinary leaders have mastered the art of "connecting" with people in ways that almost always yield positive results.

Choose the one-day or two-day option to meet your needs. Each one-day portion can stand alone, but for the maximum impact, choose both days! They may be back-to-back or several days apart to meet your scheduling needs. Either way, you will gain communication skills that will impact you the rest of your life. Both at work and at home.

Present with Power

Have you ever watched someone walk into a room and command a presence? You wondered, 'How do they do that?' In this Success Series Seminar one day workshop, learn the secret to commanding a presence in a room whether you are speaking to 3 people or 300.

Learn the nuts and bolts that can apply to every speaking situation. In this training you will learn all the "Best Practices" employed by professional speakers around the globe. Also learn the one thing you never want to do. More importantly, discover how to bring a level of confidence and polish to your presentation that you only ever dreamed of.

From the board room to the work room, learn to "capture" and keep your audience engaged for the most value-added meeting they have ever attended!

This training is for all levels of expertise.

You will learn dozens of proven tips, techniques and shortcuts that will help you approach your writing projects with confidence. Ensuring that the message you send is the one your readers will receive.

After this workshop, L. from Philadelphia said "I'll write better emails and memos; more clear and brief; effective."

From Conflict to Cooperation Communicating With Diplomacy

Most people do exactly the WRONG things in many situations when dealing with conflict. In this Success Series Seminar, you will understand the forces that generate conflict - and learn the RIGHT things to do about it.

If you haven't an idea about how to handle confrontations, and would like to clear up your situation effectively, this seminar will help you. If you already have well-developed interpersonal skills, this seminar will make you better. You may be dealing with confrontation at home, at work or in your neighborhood or community. Extraordinary leaders see conflict and confrontation as an opportunity for growth – a way to see something from a different perspective. Whatever your situation, this seminar will help you.

Expanding Your Influence Understanding the Psychology of Persuasion

Ever had trouble persuading someone to do something, even if it was in their best interest? Why is it some people can get others to do something with ease, while for others it seems like it's an uphill battle? Sometimes people don't seem to want to budge, having the power to persuade and influence others in a positive, ethical, non-confrontational manner is a priceless skill. "Expanding Your Influence", will provide the skills and knowledge needed to influence others when you're at the "pivot point" between influence and directing simply by applying scientifically confirmed methods.

You'll master simple, yet incredibly effective, techniques for getting others "do what you want them to do". Packed with practical how-to's, real-life techniques and step-by-step strategies, this program offers invaluable methods for persuading, negotiating and gaining favor with clients, colleagues, friends and family. Whether you're asking for a raise, closing a critical deal, or selling colleagues on a proposal, you'll be amazed by your newfound persuasive power.

Understanding Generations Yours and Mine

Most experts identify four main generational groups that are in the workplace. Traditionalists, Baby Boomers, Generation-X and Millennials. But are you aware some say there are six! — and each come with its own style of communicating, values and attitudes.

The generational differences concept has little empirical data...it is sociology. It might be good to combine stereotypes of the generations, examples of real-life situations and examples of successes. First, it takes understanding the possible differences, then being able to embrace those differences for the value they each can add to the workplace, even to the extent of matching the career goals and talents of the different generations to specific work projects and positions.

Examine ideas for how to approach this aspect of diversity: how can generational differences be leveraged to benefit organizations, and how can conflicts be diffused?

Working with You is Killing Me! Dealing with Difficult People

At some point in your career you will work with someone you find to be difficult. When we were in school, we each had a teacher whose class we hated to attend. We even have family members we don't get along with, so why wouldn't we work with someone we find difficult? IT'S INEVITABLE.

Fear not! It doesn't have to be a death sentence. This LDi Success Series Seminar will show you how to work effectively – EVEN WITH THOSE YOU DON'T LIKE.

“Yea, but, you don't understand who I work with.” You're right. However, just as we were able to go to school with the class bully, the tattletale, and the teacher's pet, LDi can show you strategies for working with the most annoying people in your office... NOT YOU, OF COURSE ☺

IT'S EASY TO WORK WITH SOMEONE YOU ENJOY,
BUT HOW DO YOU WORK WITH SOMEONE YOU DON'T EVEN LIKE?

After this workshop, J. from Morgantown said, “I'll use this in working with my team, as well as friends and family”.

General Employee Development

Leader Development Institute's "General Employee" Success Series Seminars are for everyone. From administrative professionals to top level supervisors, from ethics to passion, from Microsoft Office to OSHA Certifications, each topic will add value to the entire workforce.

New!

Working with Passion and Purpose

Do you wake up in the morning and as soon as you walk through the door at work you are already looking at the clock? Not happy at your job? Feeling unrecognized, unappreciated and underpaid? As easy as it is to point the finger, what you do is up to you.

Maybe the work isn't what it used to be, maybe you do have an ineffective supervisor or difficult co-workers. Have you lost that drive? Just entering the workforce or nearing retirement, having passion and purpose in what you do – on the job and off – is always within your grasp. Your potential is greater than you think.

As an employer, imagine mission success when you have a workforce where everyone enjoys what they do. Where everyone knows where and how THEY are connected – no matter where they are in the process – to the organizations mission.

RAISE YOUR EQ

You needed IQ to succeed in school...but you need emotional intelligence or EQ to succeed in life.

If you look at the most successful people on the planet, it's their EQ that helps them to rise to the top. There are many people with the same IQ as Oprah Winfrey and Bill Gates but it's their EQ that separates Bill and Oprah from others.

The good news is that while your IQ remains pretty constant throughout your life, you may improve your EQ substantially. EQ is measured in 5 major areas.

- How to identify the root cause of your feelings, de-escalate your emotions and prevent them from interfering with your day
- What subtle body language and tone can unknowingly cause conflict with others
- Methods for beating procrastination
- How to reframe your thoughts and feelings about the 'hard' tasks
- Gracefully exit when your feelings are out of control

Ethics in the Workplace

Employees often grapple with the questions “is this ethical, is that ethical, is this an unethical business practice”? LDi has developed a one-day workshop that provides a foundation for answering those questions.

Making ethical decisions not only impacts us as individuals, those decisions also have an impact on our teams and organizations. Right or wrong has become somewhat indiscernible – this session will increase your ethical awareness and provide a structure for gauging your moral compass.

During this LDi Success Series Seminar participants will explore issues of ethics in their day-to-day life, especially the challenges encountered in the workplace. We will look at personal values and their relationship to organizations and core values; the practical implications of ethical decisions; and conflicts that arise between personal interest and moral imperatives.

When asked “How will you use what you learned?” T. from OKC said “Applying my knowledge to my work environment to better myself.”

Working Powerfully in a Multi-Cultural Organization

Maximize your potential through diversity and inclusion. Having cultural awareness will provide rewards and opportunities necessary to increase employee synergy, effectiveness and success.

Recognizing the uniqueness, contributions, and the differences of others will strengthen your ability to communicate, work on teams, build relationships and increase your own success. During this LDi Success Series Seminar, you'll gain insight into ways in which cultural diversity (differences) strengthens organizations. In addition, cultural awareness training builds cohesiveness, confidence, and engages employees to look at themselves and determine if there are “self-imposed” impediments preventing them from fully embracing all those they work with.

WOW! Customer Service That Makes Them Smile Treating EVERYONE As Your Customer

Whether you realize it or not, each and every one of us serves customers. Maybe you're on the front line of an organization, serving the people who buy/use your products or services.

Perhaps you're a member of your organizations internal support team serving the employees by producing their paychecks and keeping the company running. Or maybe you're a company owner or executive, serving your staff and your customers.

Regardless of your position, customer service is not about what you think will satisfy the customer; rather, it's about considering the customer by first understanding what will satisfy them - and then exceeding those expectations. Lazy customer service providers never figure this out and their customers consider the competitor first. This one-day seminar will equip you with the necessary skills to ensure you are always considering your customers first!

When asked "How will you use what you learned?" D. from Atlanta said: "I will go back to my to team to discuss and present content to leadership."

LDi CERTIFICATE PROGRAMS

LEADERSHIP FOR LIFE - AN LDi LEADERSHIP LAB (5-day Total Immersion Program*)

THE CONCEPT

Leadership for Life is designed as an “immersion” program for individuals and leaders wishing to make a significant impact within their organizations and/or industry. Structured as an in-residence program, the “Lab” is held at an off-site location with lodging and conference facilities.

Participants are formed into teams and are involved in leadership training and experiences from breakfast to bedtime.

Instruction and facilitation are provided by a course director and a cadre of coaches assigned to the participants on a no more than 6 to 1 ratio.

THE 5 PRINCIPLES

1. Character Traits are determined by leaders themselves. What do you value most in extraordinary leaders?
2. Core Competencies include those skills beyond the technical job description.
3. Mission focus is what we’re paid for. It’s all about RESULTS!!
4. People perform the mission. How well do we support them?
5. Change is a verb. It’s something you do. Have you just been reacting to it?

THE COACHES

Extraordinary Leadership fosters more extraordinary leadership.

With this in mind, LDi not only develops great leaders, but we acknowledge the efforts of some of our top students by inviting them back to serve as coaches in subsequent programs.

Imagine the gratification you will feel when not only does your employees receive exceptional training but are invited back to reinforce and share that training with others.

THE MYPAC™

The foundation of Leadership for Life is a forward - looking new tool we call “My Personal Action Contract”. The MYPAC puts the leadership lessons into practice.

With the support of their coaches, participants develop SMART goals supporting their desire to improve personally, professionally and in their communities.

The official “graduation” from the Leadership for Life program comes when the MYPAC is complete and the coach and participant both sign off.

One of the greatest challenges in determining training resources is a perceived return on investment for training dollars. The MYPAC answers this challenge by creating a desire in your people to continue to grow and improve in their leadership skills, and provide a tool to measure results

*Although LDi believes the immersion aspect of this program is optimum, we will work with your representatives to customize this program to meet your training needs/schedule.
