

Chrystina Katz

Professional speaker and trainer

Chrystina Katz is a seasoned project management professional, workshop facilitator, trainer, and mentor, Chrystina brings the stories, scars, and solutions to every situation for successful outcomes.

While Chrystina has an advanced academic background and achieved numerous certifications and licenses over the last 30 years, her passion in project management, time management, and change management allowed her to garner planning efficiencies and strategic transition skills that expand across leadership regardless of industry and level.

Over the last few decades, Chrystina has worked in numerous industries including biomedical devices, automotive, financial, and software. She has dealt with the major events of economy and community helping business leaders guide their companies through crisis with minimal conflict. With the right strategies, tools, and techniques every leader can be the vanguard that inspires others to achieve.

Chrystina created a planner like no other. It inspires, guides, and helps every serious leader get and stay focused every day, while using the 80 10 10 technique. This Planner, her other publications, group and individual coaching exponentially increase success for those leaders ready to push through change and go to the next level.

Chrystina imagines a world where people are gutsy enough to pursue their dreams, which makes for happier people, and more enjoyable business ventures, with the ripple effect of more compassionate families, more productive businesses, and more collaborative communities around the world.

As a Leader Development Institute speaker and trainer, Chrystina brings creative guidance and sustainable strategies to help you and your team reveal the brilliance that is yet to arise.
